

Data has a better idea

MagTrack - better supply chain visibility

Access to timely and relevant information is crucial in your supply chain. Too often there is frustration over the gap in the information you need vs what you're getting.

Visibility into shipment milestones puts you in the driver's seat when taking control of your supply chain. Without it, you're in the dark.

MagTrack provides a fully interactive portal where importers and their suppliers can check on the progress of orders, bookings, shipments, and containers, view invoices and upload documents to shipments.

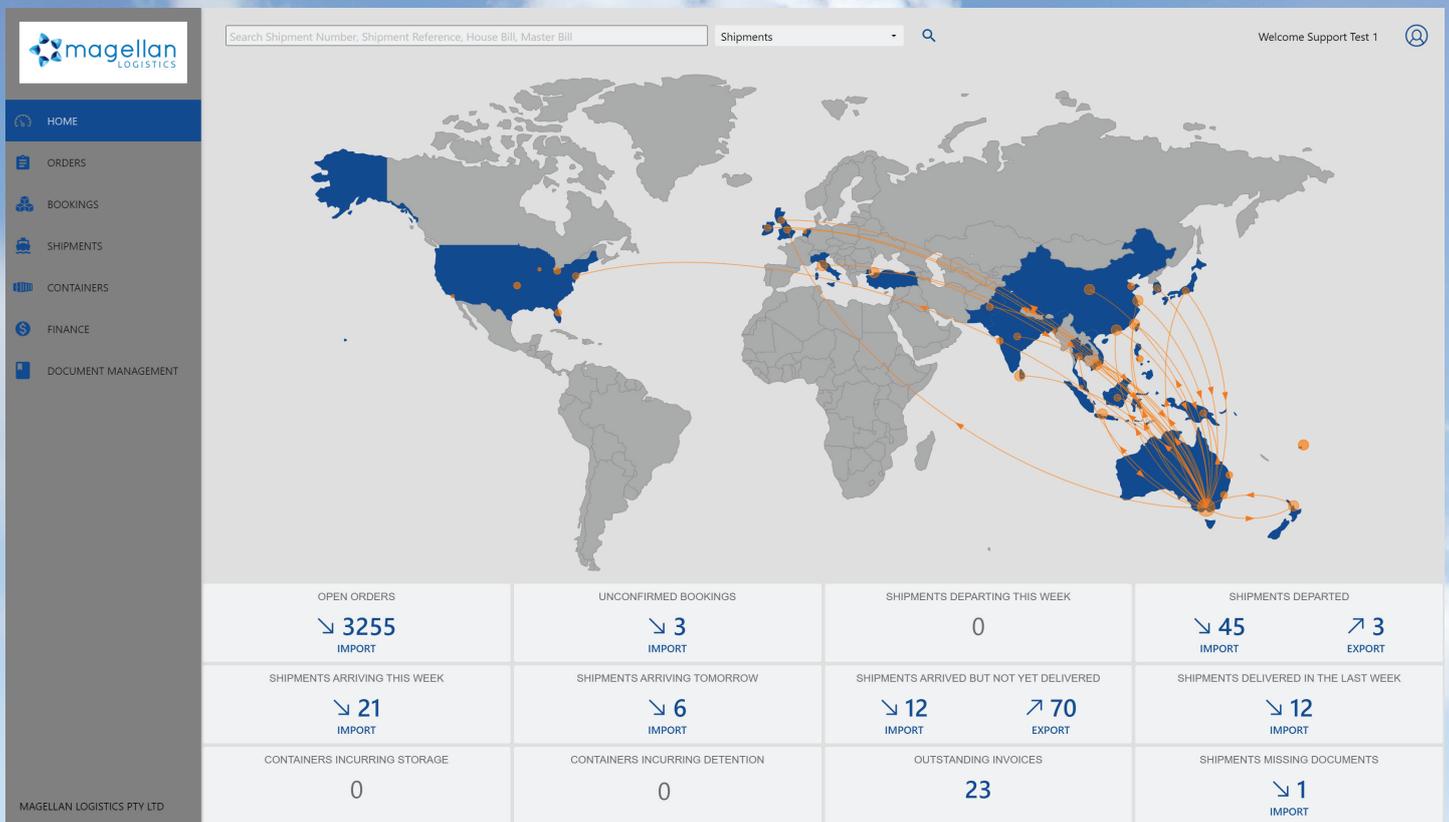

Our agile operating system also enables us to offer automated standard, custom reporting, and full data integration – as much or as little as you want, delivered in a way that suits you.

Best of all, there is no need to purchase expensive software or overhaul your systems. The team at Magellan Logistics can take care of the set up for you.

When it just HAS to happen

magellanlogistics.com.au

MagTrack portal dashboard: you and your suppliers can see the status of all items in your supply chain in one view.

Web Portal

The MagTrack portal offers complete interactive and real-time online access to detailed order, shipment, container, invoice and document information.

- View current status and estimated arrival dates of shipments
- See when your containers are due back and how many free days left see before detention starts
- Search and print any invoice - paid or unpaid
- View and attach documents to shipments, and quickly see any shipment with missing documents
- Ensure shipment arrivals and the on-time return of containers with early detection of exceptions
- Full paperless workflow environment ensures no shipments fall-through-the-gaps.
- Notifications and alerts on-the-go give you the potential to resolve disruptions before they disrupt your business
- Suppliers can also access the portal to update order ready dates, upload commercial invoices and add other critical shipment data

Systems Integration

For those who want deeper integration, we can provide all the shipment information integrated with your data in your own system without the need for portal access or external reporting.

- Real-time data integration – standardised data format increases data integrity and the value of the information
- End-to-end visibility over orders, suppliers, and third-party partners – break down silos and gain access to relevant data to promote collaboration across the supply chain
- Reports tailored to your specifications and automatically triggered based on identified events
- Early exception detections
- Data analytics allow you to direct warehouse, retail and last-mile delivery teams more efficiently
- Advanced automation to improve speed and accuracy

When it just HAS to happen

magellanlogistics.com.au

